The Multilateral Convention for anti-BEPS implementation: will it work?

On 24 November 2016, a group of more than 100 jurisdictions concluded negotiations on a multilateral instrument ("MLI") that will modify the application of existing bilateral tax treaties to implement the tax treaty measures developed through the OECD/G20 BEPS project.

The MLI will modify existing bilateral tax treaties regarding: Hybrid mismatches, improving dispute resolution, prevention of treaty abuse and prevention of the artificial avoidance of PE status.
